

GRIN AND BEAR IT BY LICHTY

"It isn't wise to push a bright child through school too fast! ... Think of the trauma when he arrives at college, too young to grow a beard."

JOSEPH ALSOP

Mao as Louis XIV

HONG KONG — In the last days of Louis XIV, his intriguer wife, Madame De Maintenon, and his favorite bastard son, the Duc Du Maine, moved heaven and earth to perpetuate the vast authority they had long enjoyed through the old king. To secure their future, ranks were altered, wills were made, codicils were added.

Alsop

In the end it was all to no avail. The old king was hard-ly in his grave before his will was torn to shreds. But the end of the story is merely predictive of the Chinese future, since Mao Tse-tung is still alive.

In contrast, the prior drama is currently and quite intensely relevant to the Chinese situation because of the two linked questions hanging over China today. First, are Mao's ter-magant wife, Chiang Ching, and his slimy political favorite, Chen Po-ta, still able to manipulate the deified chairman as Louis XIV was manipulated? Second, does Mao still enjoy the same absolute power until (but only until) he breathed his last?

The questions are so important because of the change of course in China described in the last report. In brief, on Sept. 5, Chiang Ching was forced to eat her words about a great purge of the army. The army was given plenary powers to restore order in the civil war-torn provinces, even at the expense of the Cultural Revolution's shock troops, the Red Guards. And Mao's Cultural Revolution high command, headed by Chiang Ching and Chen Po-ta, also had to submit to the dismissal of two of its leading members.

There are two ways of reading these remarkable events that produced the present lull. One way is to suppose that there was a kind of muted coup d'etat in Peking toward the end of August, led by such senior army officers as the nuclear boss, Nieh Jung-chen, Hsu Hsiang-ch'iu, Su Yu and others — who stand quite apart from the army's arch-Maoist, Lin Biao.

If real power now resided with this kind of military collegium, no doubt allied with Premier Chou En-lai, then a prolongation of the lull can perhaps be expected. There is some evidence for this, since one of the two dismissed members of the Cultural Revolution high command, Wang Li, is known to have been the organizer of the constant attacks on Chou En-lai's whole administrative apparatus.

On the other hand, it is equally possible that Mao was only temporarily brought to his senses, by grim confrontation with the real facts of the situation in the provinces. And if power still resides with the deified chairman, then Chiang Ching and Chen Po-ta are bound to follow the course of Madame De Maintenon and the Duc Du Maine.

Area Soldier Finds Friend in 'Little Joe'

PHUOC VINH, Vietnam — When it comes time to go home after completing his tour of duty in Vietnam, Army Specialist Four Jerry R. Weber, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Weber, Route 3, Corry, will find it hard to say goodbye to "Little Joe." He's a seven-year-old Vietnamese boy who has become the mascot of Spec. Weber's military police company.

Little Joe is only three feet tall and weighs all of 45 pounds, but he's every inch a soldier and a M.P. He wears a snappy, tailored to size uniform, complete with the M.P. armband, and is probably the proudest boy in Vietnam.

Every afternoon after school, Joe runs home, changes into his M.P. uniform and then heads for the camp gate. "He's a great help around the gate," says Spec. Weber. "There are always a lot of children coming around and he really keeps them in line."

The men like to have Joe around, too, because he is so intelligent and quick to learn. He has picked up so much English that he is in great demand as an interpreter.

Joe is also a devotee of military drill and tradition. The M.P.s have taught him all the drill movements and commands and he can perform them perfectly. Each evening, at the Retreat ceremony, Joe stands at attention with his friends and salutes the flags of the U.S. and his own country as they are lowered side by side.

"Joe also salutes officers when he passes them," says Spec. Weber. "He's an all-around good soldier, — one of the best in the brigade in our opinion."

Spec. Weber is a 1965 graduate of Wattsburg High School.

Legislature, Constitutional Convention on Crash Course

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS HARRISBURG (AP) — Thanks to the tax snarl, the legislature and Constitutional Convention are on a collision course.

The General Assembly is in recess until after the Nov. 7 general election. It returns to work Nov. 13.

Because of the impasse over taxes, legislative leaders have not yet decided on a final adjournment date.

But the Constitutional Convention convenes Dec. 1 and present plans call for the convention delegates to use the House chamber.

One solution advanced is for the House, should it still be in session, and the convention to take turns using the spacious chamber.

Although the legislature is in recess, tax negotiations between majority Republicans and minority Democrats will continue tomorrow here in the office of Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup.

The Bedford County Republican will meet with Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver; House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R-Allegheny and House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia. "At the moment, we don't really have too much to be optimistic about," Donaldson commented over the weekend.

The university said Thursday, "The university foresees the regional campuses taking an increasing role in undergraduate education."

"Because of the abundant room for expansion available to them, growth at these sites in many ways will be easier and more economical than at the Oakland campus," said the report.

The university noted that all of the regional centers—Johnstown, Bradford, Greensburg and Titusville—have the space and the community support to grow.

The report pointed to the new $10 million complex on 455 wooded acres in Johnstown. It noted that construction is expected to get underway at Bradford within a year. "The site, formerly the Emery Airport, represents an excellent natural setting edged by forested mountains," said Pitt.

In Titusville, the school has 100 acres adjacent to the campus to grow on and an option to acquire two blocks of the downtown section.

Room for growth is available in Greensburg on the former Charles M. Lynch estate, which contains a 31-room main building and 104 acres of land. "Clearly, the communities in which these campuses are located fully support and encourage them," said Pitt's annual report.

Fineman said he was not convinced of the administration's desire for compromise.

"They have been inflexible in their demands for increased taxes," he said. "Instead of cutting back, they have increased their request for higher taxes from $267 million to $285 million."

"I think it is time now, in what will be the 11th month of the session, on our return for the governor to face facts."

"Let him run the tax bills. Let him find out whether he can pass them with Republican votes. Then, when he finds out that he hasn't got the votes, the administration can come to us for help," Fineman concluded.

Speaking of the constitutional convention, Donaldson said he doubted the legislature could adjourn finally before the convention meets to begin a three-month session.

"We might be able to work out dual use of the chamber with the House in session the first few days of the week and the convention moving in the rest of the week," Donaldson said.

Local and State Police Probe 6 Highway Mishaps

A three-car chain reaction automobile accident early yesterday morning stood out among six mishaps reported by borough and state police on county streets and highways this past weekend.

The collision occurred at 12:10 a.m. yesterday involving Joseph Laird Spade, 31, 104 Conewango st., Russell; Robert Edward Gantz, 19, RD 1, Pittsfield; and Michael Kenneth Trask, 20, 314 High st., Youngsville.

Police said, Spade was traveling slowly along Penna. ave., just over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the Riverside Hotel. With his signal on, he slowed down to turn left into the throughfare in front of the hotel, and was hit from behind by the Gantz vehicle, which in turn, had first been struck by the Trask automobile.

But the chain of collisions wasn't over yet. After the accident, Trask, who was charged with reckless driving, backed into a utility pole damaging the rear of his car.

Damages were set at $150 to the Spade vehicle, $500 to the Gantz vehicle, and $600 to the Trask automobile. Police said that there were nine feet of skid marks from the front of one wheel of the Trask car.

Also yesterday, State Police reported two accidents. At 8 a.m. cars driven by Arthur Rupczyk, 18, RD 1, Ashville, N.Y. and Robert Del McIntosh, 61, RD 1, Sugar Grove side-swiped each other on Route 61051, in Freehold Twp., six miles west of Sugar Grove.

Rupczyk was traveling south and McIntosh was traveling north; damage was set at $110 and $100 respectively.

At 2:30 p.m. on Route 6, two miles west of Warren, Harry C. Wilson, 70, Clarendon, pulled ed from a private drive into the path of Forrest W. Arnold, 62, Box 316, Tiona, who was traveling west on Route six, according to police.

The remaining mishaps occurred on Saturday. At 5 p.m. Borough authorities went to the scene of an accident at the corner of Penna. ave. and Canton st., where Dennis Lee Jordan, 20, RD 1, Youngsville struck a car driven by Norma J. Myres, 20, 22 Pollett Run rd., Warren.

Police said Myres was traveling west on the avenue, and making a right turn on Canton st. in front of a truck which turned to go around the Myres vehicle, when Jordan, unable to stop in time hit Myres from behind.

Damages were listed at $25 to the Myres automobile, and $50 to the Jordan vehicle. There were passengers in both cars, but they were uninjured.

In the state police's files for Saturday was the report of a one-car accident at 7:10 a.m. on Route 6, eight miles west of Youngsville. Donald M. Gower, 35, Westport, Pa., driving a tractor-trailer was traveling west on the highway when forced off the highway by an unidentified vehicle. The tractor-trailer went over a 15-foot embankment and overturned.

There were no injuries. However, damages amounted to $4,000.

At 2 p.m. in the afternoon, Joe J. Wasko, 58, 125 Cole st., Jamestown, N.Y. pulled out of a private road and into the path of Albert Anderson, 65, Townline rd., Jamestown, N.Y., who was traveling towards Warren on the Kiantone rd., 11 miles north of North Warren.

Damage to the Wasko vehicle was set at $75 and $225 to the Anderson auto.

Teachers, who serve as Junior Red Cross advisors, along with the help of some parents, have made ditty bags. Over $300 worth of items that servicemen need were purchased at local stores to include peanuts, pocket books, Kool-Aid, cards, writing paper, pens and wash cloths.

The $300 represented money collected during Junior Red Cross drives at Beaty Junior High School and Warren borough elementary schools. Ditty bags were packed by elementary school students and arrangements made to send them to the fighting men.

Clarendon Firemen Kept Busy With Variety of Weekend Calls

Except for a few calls concerning wires knocked down by the wind, it was a quiet weekend for the Warren Fire Department—however, in Clarendon it was anything but.

Leonard Falbriski, Clarendon fire chief, reported five calls from Friday evening through yesterday.

When an auto went off Main st. and crashed into the home of Carroll E. Waldeck at 6:50 p.m. Friday, the company was called in case of injuries. There were none except to Waldeck's enclosed porch.

Less than three hours later at 9:45 p.m. the department rushed to the vacated Knight estate to extinguish a fire in a two story garage at the rear of the house. There was extensive damage to the upper portion. The cause is still being investigated.

While the emergency truck was at the scene it was called to take a heart patient to Warren General Hospital.

Woman Dies In Fire

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa. (AP)—A woman perished yesterday in a fire at her two-story frame home in the Teesleville area of Crawford County.

Rita S. Tatters, 29, of Rt. 3, Cambridge Springs, burned to death on the second floor.

Her husband, Raymond, their four children and a woman relative escaped from the flaming home, but four were taken to Spencer Hospital in Meadville for treatment of burns and one a child, was admitted.

State police said the fire started near an oil heater, but they said the cause was not immediately determined.

The Clarendon company re-routed traffic for an hour while its hose stretched across the highway.

At 7:05 Saturday night, in the Clarendon Coin Laundry, 10 N. Main st., lint caught fire in a dryer and filled the establishment with smoke. The fire department cleaned out the fuzz. There was no damage.

And finally yesterday at 4:55 p.m. a small barn, 10 by 30 feet in size, full of hay, caught on fire behind the home of Mrs. Robert Kays, Chapman Dam rd. The firemen doused the building with water, and removed the hay.

Teachers To Receive New Service

Elementary and secondary school teachers and administrators in the Warren area will receive, starting in January, a new service designed to help them plan their curriculum so that it is completely up to date on new developments in education.

For the first time, the myriad of suppliers of instructional materials and service to the school field will all be listed by curriculum planners by Educators PRIME Information Service, Route 46, Totowa, New Jersey. The organization also supplies another free service to educators in the form of the PRIME Reports, a twice-monthly review of new technology and methods in the educational field. Costs of the various services are borne by leading companies which present their catalogs in the directory.

Over 200 Kids At Jamesway Halloween Party

The Jamesway store was jam packed Saturday afternoon, but not everybody was there to buy.

It was the day of the store's third annual Halloween Costume Contest, and over two hundred children went wearing spook outfits to be judged, while their parents and spectators gathered around.

Six year old Nella Donagy was the grand prize winner of a bicycle. Other winners included Dan Davidson, Don Davidson, Jennifer Res, Patty Hecei, Drek Rapp, Connie Luther, Sue Gardner and Wayne Cook.

In all, $150 in prizes were given away to the nine winners in the three age groups. In addition, all contestants received trick or treat bags.

The costumed children were divided into three age groups: ages 4 to 6, 7 to 9 and 10 to 12. Prizes were awarded in each group for the funniest, prettiest, and most original. The nine winners in their age groups then competed for the grand prize for the most outstanding costume in the contest.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: Yesterday I picked up a book of pop poetry by a fellow named Ronald Gross. A poem in the book was a takeoff on a letter to you from an unhappy wife. Will you please respond to the question in the poem? Here it is:

EPITHALAMUM
I can't understand why the career girls
Who write to you feel they are missing
So much in life by not being married,
Where do they get the idea
That a husband is the answer to everything?
I wish one of these girls would take mine.
I'm not bitter, Ann—just experienced.
Marriage is not the dream it is cracked up to be.
I had a wonderful job when I got married
But I cheerfully gave it up to be a household drudge.
My husband is a nice guy but dull.
Let me tell you that marriage is plenty overrated.
Many single girls write to say they are lonesome.
Well, I'm married and I'm lonesome, too.
I'm not a cold person, Ann, if that's what you're thinking.
I never refuse him.
The single woman who supports herself can travel,
And spend her money on anything that strikes her fancy.
She can have a date, a romance, or a full-blown affair.
If she feels like it.
She can turn love off and on like an electric light bulb.
So why don't you level with the girls, Ann?

DEAR NEW YORK READER: I HAVE leveled with the girls—in 688 newspapers. From Anchorage to Amarillo, I tell them that ALL marriages are happy. It's living together afterwards that's tough. I tell them that a good marriage is not a gift. It's an achievement. That marriage is not for kids. It takes guts and maturity. It separates the men from the boys. And the women from the girls. I tell them that marriage is tested daily by the ability to compromise. To give and take. Its survival can depend on being smart enough to know what's worth fighting about. Or making an issue of. Or even mentioning. Marriage is giving. And more important—forgiving. And it is almost always the wife who must do these things. Then, as if that were not enough, she must be willing to forget what she forgave. Often that is the hardest part. Oh, I have leveled all right. If they don't get my message, Buster, it's because they don't want to get it. Rose-colored glasses are never made in bifocals. Nobody wants to read the small print in dreams. ANN LANDERS

Trinity Women's Dinner Meeting Is Attended By 50

Fifty members of the Trinity Episcopal Church Women met for dinner and a business meeting at the Parish House recently. Mrs. Joseph Mathis, president, announced at the business session that there is to be a reception honoring the Bishop and Mrs. Crittenden as well as members of the Confirmation Class following the 10:30 service on Sunday, November 5. At that time the Bishop will confirm this year's class.

Mrs. Mathis asked for a report on the plans for the Election Day luncheon and tickets were distributed to members for advance sales for this event. Mrs. Merle Fitch, UTO chairman, reminded members that the Fall Ingathering will take place at the regular Service on November 12.

Mrs. Bruce Johnson was guest speaker for the program. She showed slides to set the scene for her account of the Triennial and to acquaint the women with some of the women speakers as well as the representatives of the Diocese of Erie, many of whom are well known to Warren people.

The speaker reviewed the method of selecting delegates and mentioned that the Diocese of Erie was among those having a full complement of delegates to all three meetings. She announced that the General Convention delegates had voted to seat women in the House of Deputies at future conventions.

Most important, Mrs. Johnson discussed the action taken regarding UTO funds, and described the moving ceremony of the presentation of those funds. She read excerpts from the presiding Bishop's sermon. In this sermon, he suggested that his listeners imagine the whole world as a village of 1,000 persons. In this village, he said, only 90 would be North Americans, and only 60 of that 90 would belong in the United States. Half of the village income would belong to the 60 U.S. villagers. Through similar parallels, he emphasized the great importance of the work of the women of the church, in contributing all they can to the support of the program of the Church—the program financed by UTO.

At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Johnson invited questions, and the discussion that followed added much to an informative evening.

It's time for Lively Issues again—this time on the National level. Davis; Foreign Policy—evaluation of U.S. relations with the People's Republic of China and support positions on Trade, Aid, U.N. Resource Chairman for Foreign Policy is Mrs. W. J. ty—Security, Tax Rates, Treaty making. Chairman for National CR's is Mrs. Harry Segel. The National Voter for August brought to the attention of every member recommendations for the 1968-1970 National Program. Members are urged to review their August VOTER to spark their thinking as to subjects they would like their delegates at the 1968 League Convention to adopt for the National Program. Every member's opinion carries weight and their voices should be heard.

Final choice of program will be made at National Convention, Chicago, Illinois, April 29 to May 3, 1968, where delegates from every League in the country will have an opportunity to vote on choosing of program. Any interested women of the area are welcomed at all League unit meetings. The local League is still conducting its finance drive, hoping to achieve its goal of $850. Members are urging citizens to help assure the continuance of their program of promoting better government. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Harry Segel, Finance Chairman, 20 Redwood street.

MOM DOESN'T HANG OUT HERE ANYMORE

...SINCE SHE GOT HER NEW FLAME

Mom got tired of the same old line and got herself a brand new flame—a reliable flame-heated Gas clothes dryer.

Instead of fussing with pins and props, she turns a dial. Instead of worrying about soot and storms, she presses a button. And in minutes her Gas flame dries a whopping load of laundry fluffy, sweet smelling, and fresh as all outdoors.

Saves ironing time, too, since a lot of things that are fresh-air dried with Gas need only touch-up ironing—or none at all.

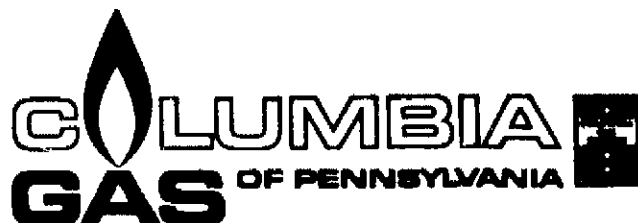

A gas dryer makes it so easy that plenty of people use it every day instead of letting a weekly wash build up.

Extravagant? not at all. You can dry up to five big loads in a Gas dryer for what one load costs in the flameless kind.

Gas dryers save money on service, too. If your Gas dryer ever needs fixing, just give us a call. No matter where you bought your Gas dryer or how long you've owned it, our trained servicemen will find the trouble quickly. Most services are free. All service is fast, courteous and dependable.

Maybe it's time you stopped hanging around and started living the modern way with a money-saving Gas dryer.

Think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE

Philomel Club Members To Be Guests Of Jamestown Club

The Philomel Club members of Warren will be guests of the Jamestown Mozart Club Wednesday afternoon at the Marvin House at 2 o'clock. The afternoon will be a continuation of the exchange of programs between the two clubs that has been in effect for approximately forty years. The program to be presented by the Warren group will be "Strings In Depth" under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick L. Olson.

For the first number, Mrs. John Benze, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, will play "Sonatina" in three movements: Presto, Swiss Air, and Rondo, by Clementi.

Mrs. Olson will offer Mendelssohn's "Concerto In E Minor" with Mrs. Peter Horning the accompanist.

Continuing the theme will be Mrs. Ronald Simonsen and Mrs. Olson presenting "Concerto For Two Violins" by DeBeriot. Eichberg's "Andante" an ensemble for six violins, will be executed by Mrs. Benze, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. DeFrees, Mrs. William Yeager Jr., Mrs. Simonsen and Mrs. Samuel Bonavita. Mrs. Horning will be the pianist accompanist for this also.

The "Adagio Cantabile Septet, Opus 20" will conclude the program and will be played by the above six violinists and Mrs. James Potter, violinist, with Mrs. Robert Conn, cellist.

The belted kingfisher is an example in birds — one of the very few — where the female has the more colorful plumage.

The first American button factory was established at Waterbury, Conn.

Aides were Mrs. Lois Scott and Mrs. Mary K. Scott, aunts of the bride, Miss Judy Hagberg, Mrs. Jane Rohlin and Miss Marilyn Danielson.

For a honeymoon in Harrisburg, the new Mrs. Kent wore a three-piece knit suit of navy with poppy red jacket and navy accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent will reside at 51 W. Main street, Youngsville, after November 25.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Warren Area High School, Class of '66. Mrs. Kent attended Data Processing School in Jamestown and is employed at Deluxe Metal. Mr. Kent, a member of the U.S. Navy Reserves, is employed by Midtown Motors in its body repair shop.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Patrick Kent, sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Carol Stiller, Mrs. Kay Johnson, Mrs. Irene Riese, aunts of the bride; and fellow workers at Deluxe Metal. A rehearsal buffet supper was served at the residence of Mrs. Neil Kent, mother of the groom.

National YWCA Staff Member Spending 3 Days In Warren

MISS JANETTE A. WARING

Miss Janette A. Waring, member of the Community Division field staff of the Young Women's Christian Association in the Eastern Region with headquarters in New York City, will be in Warren from today, October 30, through Wednesday, November 1, as the guest of the local association.

As a field staff member, Miss Waring works with community YWCAs on all phases of program and administration. She is responsible for cooperation with Association leadership on teenage programs, on business, professional, and industrial members, YW-Wives and health education. She also advises with local YWCA staff on questions in finance and community relations.

The Young Women's Christian Association is a local, national and international membership organization of women and girls. A recent annual count showed more than two million persons registered in program in the United States alone; over 400,000 young people between 12 and 17 are in YWCA programs annually. YWCA program, occurring in 75 countries including the U.S.A., reflects the role and needs of women and girls in their respective communities and societies. The National Board of the YWCA of the U.S.A. is the overall unifying coordinating body for local, autonomous Associations.

Miss Waring joined the Eastern Region staff in September (1967) after having worked in a similar post in the Central Region for more than ten years. Prior to her first national assignment, Miss Waring worked both in local YWCAs and as a physical education director in the Oak Ridge Pontiac, Michigan schools.

Miss Waring is a native of Mansfield, Ohio. She attended Allegheny College in Meadville, and obtained a B.S. in Physical Education from Ohio State. She has taken postgraduate courses at Union Theological Seminary and at Western Reserve University. Officials of the Warren YWCA are looking forward with pleasure to working with their new field consultant.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
AKQ10982 ♠ Q ♠ K1095 ♠ 92
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass Pass

What do you bid now?
A—Three spades. Some effort should be made to move toward game and the jump bid in view of your previous pass is not forcing.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK63 ♠ 7 ♠ AQ82 ♠ K4
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass Pass

What do you bid now?
A—One spade. We sometimes stretch a point to make a jump rebid in no trump with only 18 instead of the prescribed 19 high card points. But we are not inclined to do so when it involves suppressing a good four card major. The risk in rebidding only one spade is ever so slight for, if partner must pass, chances for game may be regarded as negligible.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
AQ103 ♠ AQ5 ♠ A983 ♠ K42
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Three spades. Up until now you have scouted like a person with a very minimum opening bid and while your values do fall within the limits of the one no trump rebid, your points are of the ill-placed variety and include an excellent fit for both of partner's suits. Game is quite probable and a jump bid is necessary to convey this message to partner.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
AQ53 ♠ KQJ94 ♠ 8763
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Two spades. The normal procedure at this point would be to announce the club fit by bidding a raise, but that would interfere with the proper and orderly investigation for other things on the hand in the interests of probing for a slam. Therefore, another temporizing call is in order. Partner's next call may clarify the picture considerably.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
AJ ♠ AKQJ ♠ AKQ85 ♠ AQ4
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
A—Four clubs. The future is right, uncertain, at this stage due to the apparent lack of a fit and another bid is indicated. If partner rebids his suit once more we recommend a raise to five. If the future of his suit is good enough this should induce him to contract for a slam.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK83 ♠ KQ1087 ♠ 10653 ♠ A
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Two hearts. This is a two way shot. With your unbalanced holding a no trump contract is not especially appealing and in addition hopes for game should not be entirely abandoned in spite of partner's mild rebid. If he is able to offer a delayed raise of the hearts you can proceed to four.

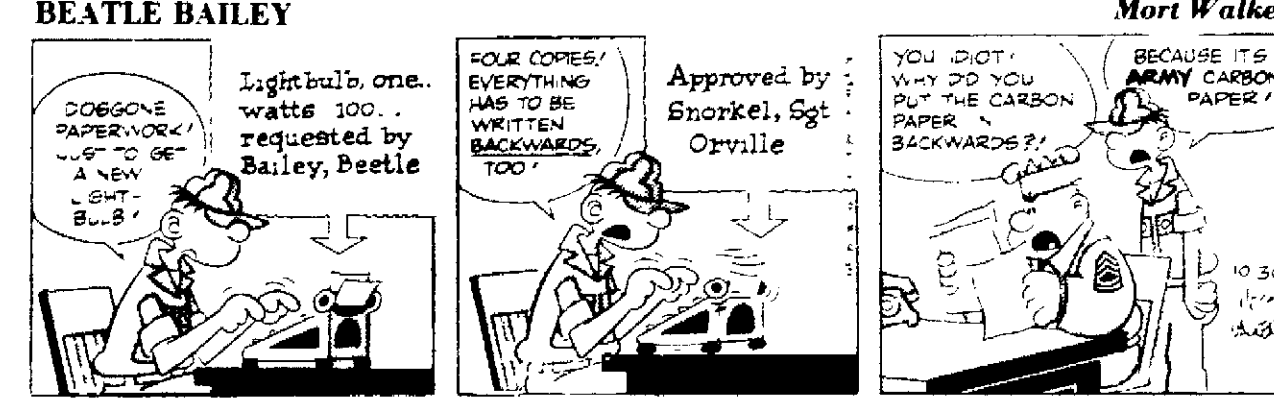

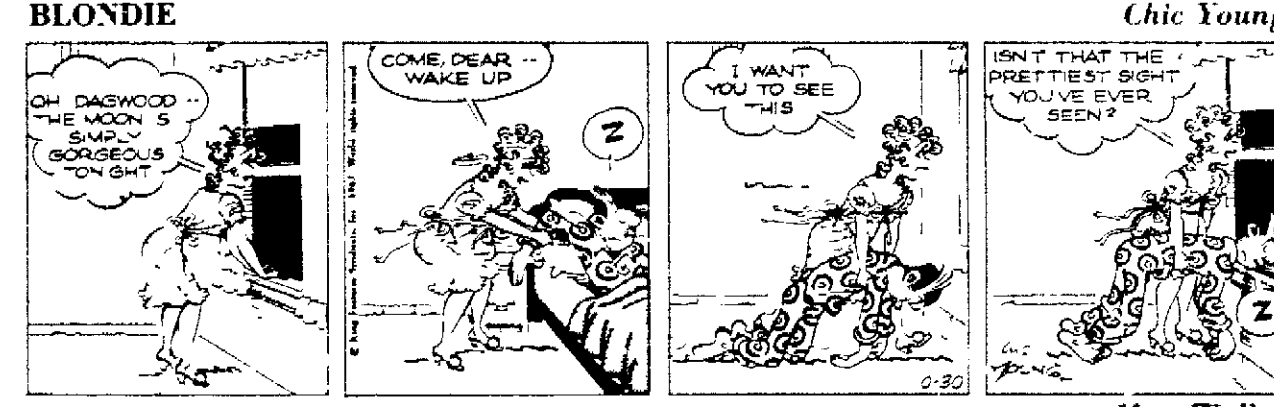

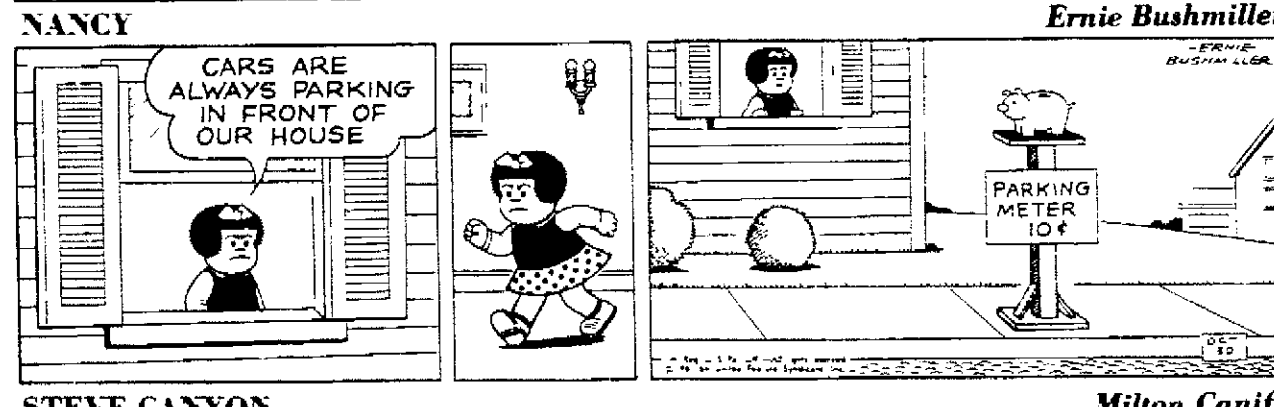

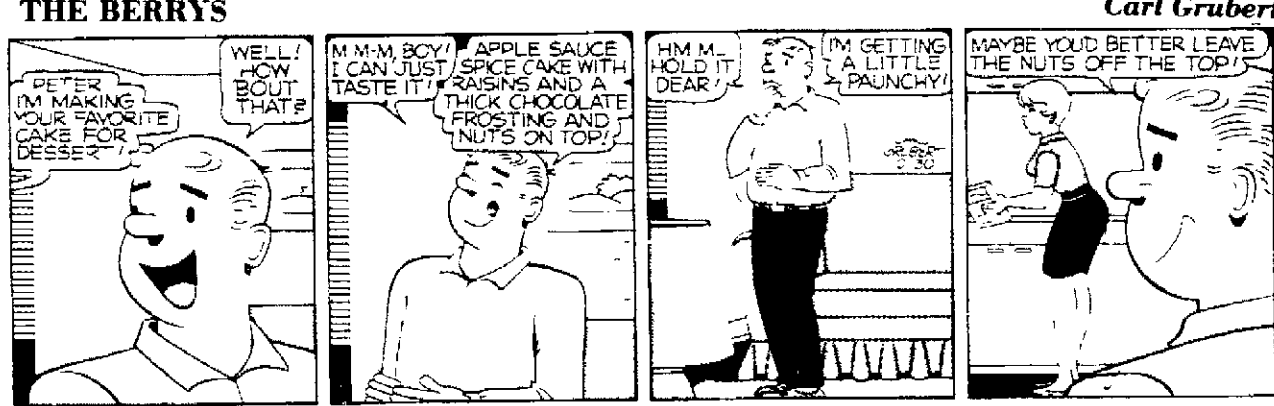

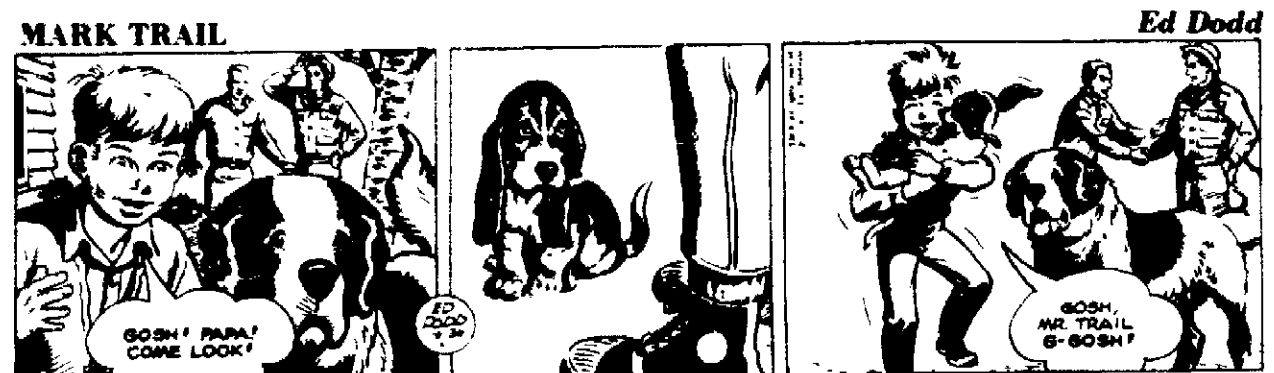

Q. 7—Both vulnerable as South you hold:
AKJ7 ♠ KJ5 ♠ 107654
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Double. Your hand figures to take six or seven tricks and anything partner can contribute will be just gravy. This double is clearly for purposes for had it been your desire to hear from partner you would have doubled one heart.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
AK3 ♠ J8763 ♠ Q10955 ♠ A
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?
A—Four diamonds. This hand presents great potential playing strength for your partner's overbid and a strong statement should be offered him to proceed. The reason for the jump all the way to four is to crowd the opposition right out of the bidding. The right are the cards to score really in one of the back suits and now be unable to find that out safely.

Your Horoscope

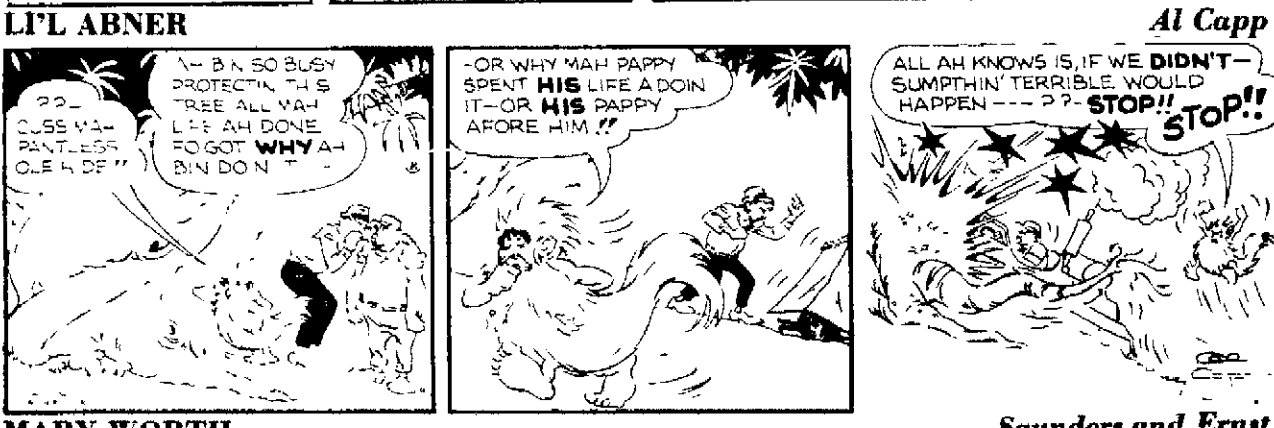

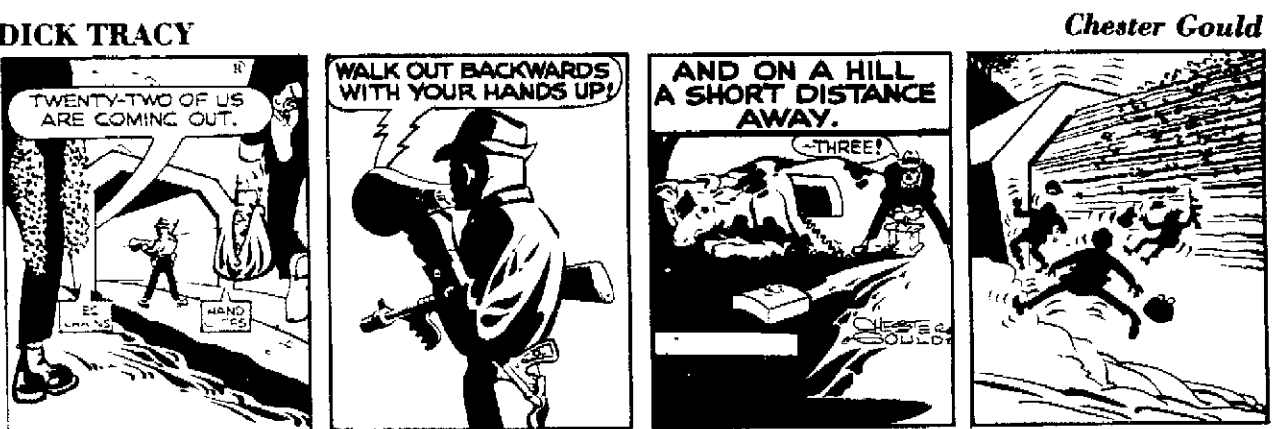

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars:
FOR MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1967
ARIES (MARCH 21 to APRIL 20)—Schedule should include, and probably does, promptness and community interests. There are a wide range of departments for you to head up, so pick and choose carefully. You are a pioneer.
TAURUS (APRIL 21 to MAY 21)—Stability, middle-of-the-road tactics and adaptability are your characteristics to deploy. Surely there are uncertain moments, but we all have them so take them in your dependable stride.
GEMINI (MAY 22 to JUNE 21)—Seeking out the little-believed and sponsoring new talent delight you and all-round friends. Give yourself a break, too. You recognize worthwhile originals and should be secure as a salesman or demonstrator.
CANCER (JUNE 22 to JULY 23)—You folks never have to grope your way around, and you are no grouch when ill. But you may be motivated by your imagination into fearing ill health. When you get the grasp of a thing you have a firm grip on it.
LEO (JULY 24 to AUGUST 23)—Don't grieve inwardly about conflicts or misgivings, talk it all over with a trusted love one and it will be eradicated. Harmony and never solitary confinement are the existence for you.
VIRGO (AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23)—Quality counts always over quantity. Your single unit of energy radiates enough enthusiasm to make contacts in myriad places. You would do well on the stage, anywhere before the public.
LIBRA (SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23)—You will plunge into anything that needs doing—and there's plenty that requires tending to now. Your family can depend upon you for support and you are able to earn at a ripe old age.
SCORPIO (OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23)—Don't be rash or foolhardy or you will meet like in return. Sometimes your ready wit is rapturously edged. When you plant your two feet on solid ground you swing in the grand manner. So swing!
SAGITTARIUS (NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21)—Swallow your pride and absorb all the vital data available. Even go out of your way to look for further and better information. You can be suave and smooth or saucy. Weigh, consider, compare.
CAPRICORN (DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20)—It's a whale of a day to take hold of yourself and your chores and come speeding in full sail. Your welcome mat is usually out, and your cordial greeting is a boon to anyone. Watchmen, seafarers gain.
AQUARIUS (JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19)—Don't tread with heavy foot when the moccasin way is as easy. You should be interested in wavelengths, aviation, and to help the feeble and infirm. Interrogate and record the facts as they are. Humor up!
PISCES (FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20)—All who wish to apply their talents can do so with acumen today. Elected public officials will have to carry their burden with greater strength. To receive gladly even a smidgeon of token friendship is in the proper manner.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertain to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.
THE FLU SEASON
Common influenza is a virus disease that strikes in our country every year. The public health service warns us that a substantial number of cases will occur during the 1967-68 season. The culprit is expected to be A2 influenza virus and the vaccine will be prepared with this in mind. A2 is suspected because this strain is beginning its cycle. In addition, a new drug (amantadine HCL) is available for treatment of the A2-type infection. B-type viruses were more prevalent during the preceding two years but the new vaccine will also immunize against this strain in order to protect the individual from any remaining stragglers. Those not vaccinated previously should be immunized in October and again in December. Those vaccinated annually since July, 1963, need only a booster dose in early December. Not everyone needs the vaccine. But it is advisable for persons known to suffer most from influenza. This includes oldsters and the chronically ill, especially those with cardiac, pulmonary, kidney, or metabolic disorders. Residents of institutions should also receive the vaccine and the same can be said of physicians, nurses, and other personnel in daily contact with the sick.
Pandemic is the term applied to a disease that spreads throughout the world killing or incapacitating its victims. There have been 31 influenza pandemics since 1510. The flu vaccine was discovered in 1941 when the causative viruses were isolated. Although it is not perfect, it will make its mark in history if it protects us against another pandemic.
When the last pandemic occurred in 1957, the vaccine was of little value because the causative (Asian) virus was a newcomer and had not yet been incorporated into the product.
+ TOMORROW: Play Molds Character.
+ Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.
+ THE ACTIVE AGE
Mrs. H. writes: Why would a healthy, bright boy of 7 fall and stumble often?
REPLY: This is an active age and falls are common until the child becomes well coordinated. On the other hand, if you have reason to believe that something is wrong with the boy's muscular or nervous system, the family physician should be consulted.
TODAY'S HEALTH HINT—Ladders should be inspected frequently for loose or broken rungs.

NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND PROLONGED READING

Q. Is nearsightedness caused or aggravated by prolonged reading?
A. The usual answer to this question is that prolonged reading has nothing to do with nearsightedness. However, recent reports seem to indicate some relationship between the extensiveness and nature of use of the eyes and the development of nearsightedness. Much more research will be needed to confirm this relationship.

DIVERTICULOSIS

Q. What foods should be avoided by a person who has intestinal diverticula?
A. The following general advice is usually given in such cases: Avoid strong laxatives if constipation is present; chew all foods thoroughly; avoid such things as nuts, peel, corn and raw vegetables such as celery, radish and cucumber. Drastic dietary restriction is usually not desirable. In fact, the diet should provide sufficient bulk to help evacuate the bowels. If needed, bulk-producing preparations as prescribed by the physician may be used.

Bemus Point Woman Killed At Fluvanna

FLUVANNA, N.Y. — A head-on collision Saturday afternoon between Fluvanna and Bemus Point claimed the 48th fatality of the year on Chautauqua highways. Saturday's death tied the all time mark established in 1964. Mrs. Esther Orr, 63, of 14 Maple st., Bemus Point died in Jamestown General Hospital some three hours after being injured in the Route 17 crash.

The driver of the auto in which Mrs. Orr was a passenger was Mrs. Alice Sigmund of East Randolph, who was listed in poor condition last night in Jamestown General Hospital's extensive care unit. She suffered multiple fractures, lacerations, contusions and abrasions.

Thirty-five-year-old Al Davidson of RD 1, Bemus Point, driver of the second auto involved in the head on crash escaped with only minor injuries. He was released following treatment at Jamestown General Hospital.

The Chautauqua County sheriff's department reports an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the head-on collision is currently being conducted.

Traffic deaths in Chautauqua County are running nearly 70 per cent of last year's total. At this time in 1966 the highway fatalities were listed at 30 persons killed.

To Collect Leaves Today
JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — D.P.W. director Joseph Veale announced over the weekend that the annual leaf collection will begin this morning. Mr. Veale said that the DPW crews using loaders, tractors, trucks and other street equipment will launch the pickup campaign beginning today in the northeast section of the city.

In order to be picked up, all leaves must be raked to the gutter. He said that those left on curbs and terraces will not be picked up.

The DPW director said that three to four days will be required for each section of the city. He said after the northeast section is finished crews will then be sent to the northwest side. The southwest side will be picked up third and the project will be completed in the southeast sector.

Billy Graham Closes Crusade

TOKYO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham closed out his 10-day crusade in Japan yesterday and flew to Honolulu.

"Taking into consideration all the factors, that Japan is not a Christian nation. I believe this is the greatest crusade ever," he said.

It was Graham's first crusade in Japan. He has held them in more than 60 nations.

"I believe we have seen the beginning of a Christian growth in Japan," Graham said before his departure.

He estimated that more than 15,000 persons had "committed themselves to God" during the crusade. That figure is just about the number of Christians among Japan's 117 million people.

Many May Have to Raise Cash For Local Action Programs

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Many cities, towns and counties will have to raise new cash to keep their community action programs if the poverty bill adopted by the House Education and Labor Committee becomes law.

The bill would require that at least half of the community's contribution shall be in the form of cash. The division of costs is 80 per cent federal, 20 per cent local.

The local share is acceptable in the form of work space, heat, power, volunteer services and similar non-cash forms.

"Often the communities that have the greatest need for anti-poverty programs and who are the most willing to make contributions towards such programs are the least able to do so in cash," said an Office of Economic Opportunity official.

The bill is scheduled for House debate the week of Nov. 6. Administration sources are pessimistic about prospects of passing a poverty bill and do not see how they can make any more concessions to antagonists without destroying the basic character of the O.E.O. programs.

Another development yesterday was the announcement of Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., that he will offer a community action substitute to the pending poverty bill to restore "true involvement of the poor." He is being joined by Rep. Albert R. Quie, R-Minn.

In general he would keep the character of community action boards as they are now, instead of turning them into public agencies necessarily dominated by city hall or the court-house.

About 80 per cent of the 1,500 community action agencies in the country are private non-profit agencies. Mayors are the principal policymakers of many of these independent agencies, but such mayors achieved those roles because of skillful political leadership rather than through a federal requirement. In other communities mayors have ignored the action programs.

The pending bill would give one-third of the seats on local policy boards to elected officials, or their representatives, one-third to representatives of established institutions, such as business and labor, and one-third to poor persons.

Goodell would require that the poor hold "at least" one-third of the seats. Elected officials would hold "up to" one-third, and private organizations would have one-third. Thus the poor could have more than a third of the seats and the elected officials could hold less than a third, Sargent Shriver, O.E.O. director, said he is opposed to switching to public agencies because he believes that private agencies tend more to involve the whole community, which he finds desirable. The U.S. conference of mayors wants no change.

The Goodell-Quie amendment also would provide for more employment and job-orientation for the poor through a Job Opportunity Board under each community action board.

In a separate provision, Goodell will propose an industrial youth corps to train the hard core unemployed aged 16 to 22. The government would reimburse employers for 25 per cent of the wages paid these employees for a year and, where indicated, for a second year.

The New York member said he is withdrawing his objection to the retention of the O.E.O. and offering these amendments instead. He acknowledged that this only hope of getting them adopted is to get a substantial number of moderate and liberal Democratic votes. Southern Democrats are supporting the committee plan to have community action agencies "go public."

AT REPUBLICAN MEETING

Confidence and Caution Are Watchwords

BY DOUGLAS E. KNEELAND
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
DENVER — Confidence and caution were the watchwords of the biennial western states Republican conference that ended here yesterday.

The confidence that 1968 would be a Republican year was strongly evident in the private and public statements of the 2,000 party leaders attending the 13-state meeting.

The caution took two forms and was the direct result of two unhappy events in recent Republican history.

The first, President Harry S. Truman's defeat of Thomas E. Dewey in 1948, haunts even the most optimistic Republican. Over and over, conference participants were warned against taking current polls too seriously and underestimating President Johnson's potential strength at election time next year.

The second, Barry Goldwater's resounding defeat in 1964 appears to have led to a dogged reluctance among potential delegates to the 1968 national convention to commit themselves to any candidate too far in advance.

The determination to "hang loose," the frequently repeated catchphrase, worked an admitted harshness on the representatives of undeclared candidates who were here to corral delegate strength.

Shaking his head sadly, a supporter of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon offered an example.

"I was talking with one man," he said, "and he told me that he was for Nixon, that he loved Nixon, but that his arm was still black-and-blue from being twisted in 1964 and that he was darned if he was going to commit himself early this time."

A top party worker for Gov. George Romney of Michigan conceded that he had continually encountered the same roadblock.

Gov. Romney and Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois were the only frequently mentioned possible nominees who attended the conference. Nixon and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California had other speaking engagements. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, a Romney backer, has denied that he wants to be President and has shunned out-of-state party functions where he might seem to be seeking personal support.

Although Governor Romney and Senator Percy were warmly received, the three absent noncandidates appeared to be the hottest conversational topics at the conference.

Reagan sentiment runs high in a number of his neighboring western states, particularly among conservatives who supported Goldwater. But Nixon has a healthy residue of strength left from his unsuccessful 1960 campaign.

Moreover, Goldwater, a Nixon backer, has transferred the allegiance of a sizable number of his followers to the former vice president.

The national Nixon for President Committee manned a hospitality suite in the Brown Palace Hotel that was the most popular waystation for conference participants.

While some Nixon people argued that this was an unquestionable victory for their candidate, others agreed that at least some of the convivial crowd that elbowed their way into the rooms each evening might have been attracted by the only free bar in the hotel.

Next Soviet Spaceship May Land Outside Russia

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Soviet Union will launch a manned spaceship soon, and it may land outside Soviet territory, possibly in India, Moscow's ambassador to India said yesterday.

The Foreign Ministry confirmed the Russians had asked about the possibility of sending men to enter India to help recover cosmonauts, indicating that several would be aboard.

"A manned spacecraft will be launched shortly, and it is likely to land anywhere outside the Soviet Union," Ambassador Nikolai M. Pagov told Indian reporters in the southern coastal city of Madras.

"We hope it will land in India, it is for us to send out the spaceship. It is for you to receive it."

There has been much speculation that the Soviet Union would

The Colorado Reagan for President Committee was serving coffee and cookies at the presidential suite down the hall.

The lack of commitment among the participants was demonstrated one night by a hostess at the Nixon headquarters.

"I'm only here to do a favor for a friend," she whispered. "I'm really for Rockefeller and Reagan. Well, I'm really for whoever can win."

launch a space spectacular next month to coincide with the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Asked about Pagov's statement, a spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in New Delhi told The Associated Press: "It's correct."

Later, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said a Soviet note in early September had "asked us about the possibility of allowing Soviet personnel to come and assist in the recovery of the cosmonauts. There was no particular mention of a time when this might happen."

He added that India had granted the Soviet request.

A spaceship to first the upcoming launching may be whizzing about the earth now.

WEEK IN FINANCE

New Pressures On Wall Street

By THOMAS E. MULLANEY
N. Y. Times Financial Editor
(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—New pressures added new tension in Wall Street last week, but the financial markets reacted calmly to all of them. It was a generally indecisive period for both the stock and bond markets, although there was a renewed upsurge in speculative fever, particularly on the American Stock Exchange.

The former curb exchange had the biggest trading day in its 118-year history on Thursday, when 3.29 million shares changed hands. It had a busy day again on Friday.

The concentration of interest in low-priced issues and the bulge in activity caused the exchange's surveillance committee to undertake a telephone check among leading brokerages to determine how they were dealing with speculation.

To a lesser extent, there was also further evidence of speculative activity on the New York Stock Exchange and over-the-counter market. In both, the glamour stocks and special-situation issues bounded sharply upward while the rest of the market moved narrowly.

The week's highlight for bonds was the Treasury's decision to offer the highest interest rate on a government security in 46 years—5.75 per cent—on $1.5 billion of seven-year notes to be sold Monday. This related investment bankers and so did the slowdown in the interest-rate rise, however temporary it might be.

One of the Treasury's aims is to lengthen the maturity of the public debt, which has been declining since 1965 and is now back to the level of 1960.

For five years between 1960 and 65 the Treasury worked to extend the maturity through advance refundings. These efforts resulted in lengthening the average maturity of the debt to five years and five months by January, 1965. In June, 1960, the average maturity had been four years, four months.

Meanwhile the rise in interest rates has raised questions whether the prime bank lending rate and the discount rate might soon be enveloped in the upswing.

There have been hints in some parts of the country that bankers would like a higher prime rate. This is a possibility after Jan. 1 if credit demands keep growing and banks find themselves continuing to pay more for their money. New York banks have been shortening the period in which they will offer 5.5 per cent interest on certificates of deposit.

The prime rate may be pushed upward by pressure from another source. This rate has remained unchanged at 5.5 per cent since March even though bond financing costs have soared. Last week, for example, a double-A callable utility bond issue was traded at a yield of 6.6 per cent—110 basis points above the prime rate.

This spread between bond rates and the prime rate is extraordinarily wide, according to Sidney Homer and Henry Kaufman of Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, and would by itself suggest an increase in the prime. This key lending rate, however, has been held in check by a moderate loan demand, by a liberal credit policy and by moderate short-term interest rates, the Salomon partners said.

The Federal Reserve Board's move a week ago to curb excessive credit by extending its margin rules was expected to unsettle the securities markets more last week—not so much from the effects of the proposed new regulations as from belief that it might be a precursor of more stringent actions.

However, the markets showed relatively little reaction to that development, nor to the continued rise in the cost-of-living; the inflationary nature of the 6 per cent Ford wage settlement and spreading price increases, the new flare-up of military activity in the Middle East and the endorsement by the Securities and Exchange Commission's chairman of a suggested investigation of the influence of institutional investors on stock transactions. Perhaps the markets, after some reactions this fall, are becoming immune to tension and are now resigned to a greater degree of inflation.

Although economists and administration officials harbor hopes that Congress will enact the proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge at this session, any action this year now seems unlikely.

Business is becoming reconciled to higher taxes, effective on Jan. 1, and is not strongly opposed provided they are accompanied by cuts in federal spending.

The majority opinion among economists is that higher taxes and lower federal spending will not slow the economy next year. It appears to be developing great strength in this last quarter of 1967.

At midnight Tuesday the U.S. economy will enter its 81st consecutive month of growth, setting a longevity record for expansion. There is no end in sight, but the road ahead might be bumpier than that traveled for almost seven years.

In the last 124-year history of business cycles in the U.S., recessions lasted an average of 20 months between 1854 and 1961, but since 1945 declines have averaged only 10 months. Expansions on the other hand, averaged 26 months in the entire period since 1854, but averaged more than 44 months since World War II.

The current boom, now surpassing the 80-month expansion in the period between June 1938 and February, 1945, has been truly spectacular. It has carried the U.S. G.N.P. to the area of $800 billion from the 1960 level of $503.7 billion. It brings ever closer the day—perhaps early in the 1970's—of the trillion-dollar economy.

Despite optimistic assessments for the economy the stock market continued its October slide, but at a more moderate pace. The Dow-Jones Industrial average slipped another 8.35 points last week, widening its loss for the month so far to more than 38 points. It now stands at 888.18.

The New York Times combined average of 50 stocks eased 0.62 point to 527.13, while Standard & Poor's combined index was down 0.42 to 94.95.

A total of 933 stocks declined for the week and 525 advanced. Turnover on the New York Stock Exchange virtually matched that of the previous week, with volume totaling 50.9 million shares against the previous 51 million.

The week's features included strength in the glamour stocks and some special-situation issues, particularly those with improved earnings. Corporate profits are continuing to show overall declines but have improved slightly from earlier this year.

In the bond market there was a general decline in convertible bond prices, some altered plans by companies selling convertibles and a heavy flow of margin calls from banks to clients carrying convertibles on credit.

Sperry Rand, the most active stock of the week with trades of 737,900 shares, rose to a new high of 57 1/2 and closed at 55 3/4, up 5 1/2. The stock continued to benefit from the company's report of a sharp increase in its September-Quarter earnings.

Allis-Chalmers finished the week at 39 3/4, up 1 1/2, on turnover of 60,400 shares. The company recently reported a sharp decline in profits and is still the subject of takeover and tender offer rumors.

Rheem Manufacturing, the third most active stock with 542,000 shares traded, touched a new high at 53 and closed at 49 3/4, up 3 3/4. Last weekend the Seeburg Corporation announced an offer to buy one million shares of Rheem stock at $50 a share.

American Telephone matched its previous low of 50 1/2 and closed at 50 1/2, down 3/4, on volume of 480,100 shares.

Occidental Petroleum, the fifth most active stock with trades of 455,200 shares, scored a new high at 97 1/2 and closed at 96 1/2, up 3 1/2. Much of its recent strength has reflected company announcements of large oil discoveries in Libya.

Reedy Named President Of SSIC

NEW YORK—George E. Reedy has been elected president of Struthers Scientific and International Corporation, an 81-per cent - owned subsidiary of Struthers Wells Corporation. He succeeds John W. Pike, who was elected vice chairman of the board of directors.

At the same time, Theodore Feit was elected executive vice president of Struthers Scientific which has interests in the international sales and engineering of the parent company's product lines, as well as offering processes for freeze concentration of liquid foods, desalination and water and waste treatment, and research and development projects such as for the reversal of aging of skin including baldness.

Reedy, former special assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson, joined Struthers Wells Corporation during May, 1966, as vice president for planning and was elected a director. He also serves as President of Struthers Research and Development Corporation, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

After joining Struthers Scientific during April 1963, Feit served in a number of executive positions within the company and its parent organization. Most recently he holds the title of Assistant to the Chairman of the Board of Directors of Struthers Wells Corporation.

Amex Volume Soars

By WILLIAM D. SMITH
(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—Last week was a week to remember on the American Stock Exchange as volume soared to the highest level in the 118-year history of that market with 33,459,514 shares, mostly in low-priced issues. The previous record week was that ended April 15, 1966, when 30,33 million shares changed hands.

Thursday's trading of 8.29 million shares was the Exchange's highest volume in history, exceeding the previous record of 7.09 million set on Oct. 29, 1929.

Of the week's five most active issues, none sold for more than $10 a share. The highest-price stock of the group was Continental Materials which closed at 3.

"People are looking for a new Xerox, Control Data or Occidental Petroleum. They want to make big money without taking much of a chance," commented a broker. "People are buying stocks without being quite sure what the companies do."

Burma Mines, the most active stock of the week rose 9 1/16 on the week to 1 1/16 on turnover of 3,572,100 shares.

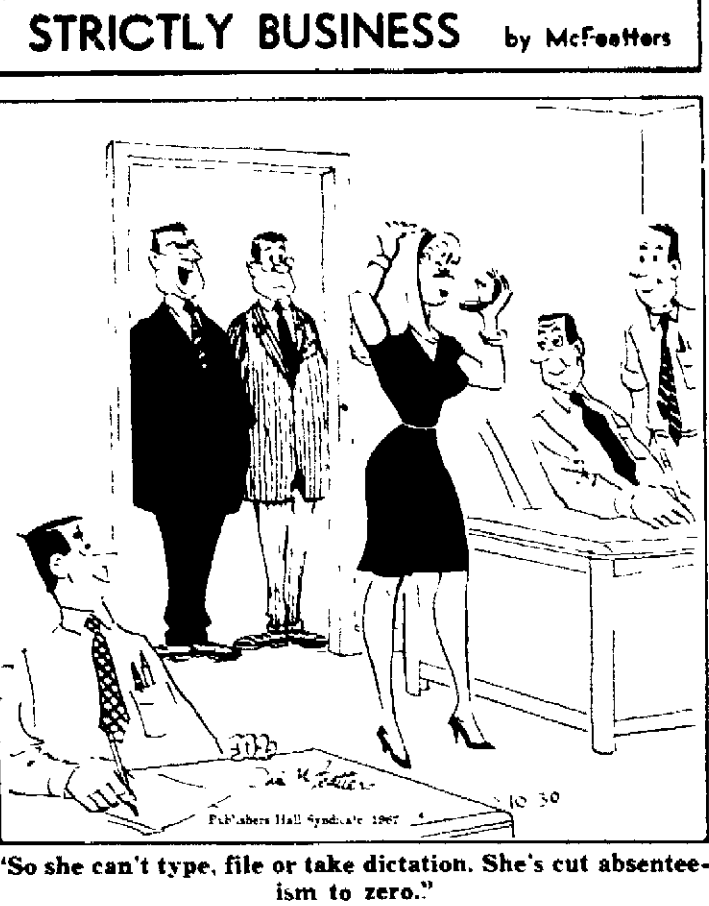

The company said it had no knowledge of any development that would account for the activity. A broker commented: "It has an exciting name and that's about all that's necessary these days."

Similarly without reason Siboney Corporation, the week's second most actively traded issue, rose 1 1/2 point to close the week at 2 1/2 on sales of 1,417,200 shares.

Last week's speculative wave prompted the exchange on Thursday to ask member firms to supply information concerning surveillance of registered representatives, trading in low-priced issues and the supervision of trading accounts.

Although volume set a record the Exchange's index dipped 12 cents to $22.45.

Trading on the over-the-counter market was more subdued but was none the less moderately active. The National Quotation Bureau's index of 30 over-the-counter industrial stocks dipped to 338.5—from 339.20 the previous week. Speculation also haunted the unlisted market but not to the extent of American Exchange trading.

"So she can't type, file or take dictation. She's cut absenteeism to zero."

Sure, you've always wanted a flameless electric dryer.

Now... you need one.

There's only one way to keep NO-IRON clothes wrinkle-free. And that's with tumble drying in an automatic... just as it says on the clothing tag.

How come? Because an automatic dryer speeds evaporation as it tuffs your No-Irons and dries the wrinkles out instead of in.

Now... why an electric dryer? Easy. No flame or fumes to worry about. Installs anywhere without flues. Operates cleaner. Lasts much longer. And right now, costs much less! So what are you waiting for?

YOU NEED AN ELECTRIC DRYER

Flameless Electric Dryers now cost $20 to $40 less than gas

150 Attend Town-Country People's Dinner in Tionesta

One hundred and fifty people attended the Town-Country People's Dinner and 48th annual Cooperative Extension Service Meeting in Tionesta Fire Hall on Monday evening. A color slide show of "Call and Country" given by Mr. and Mrs. John Shoup, Marienville, featured the program. Their pictures taken during a trip to Colombia, South America, last summer depicted customs of home and school. They also gave a complete story of the growing of coffee. Facts of climate and topography were part of the story.

Rev. John D. Swartzfager was master of ceremonies. Rev. Ralph Romine gave the invocation and the benediction.

In addition to the program participants, Swartzfager introduced Janis Wagner, 1968 4-H Club Queen, Dean McFall, 1968 4-H Club King, the Extension executive committee members, trustees of the County 4-H Development Fund Board, 4-H club adult and junior leaders, county officers and candidates for county offices.

Plans for the meeting were made by executive committee members J. R. Allio, Mrs. Virginia Culver, Mrs. Earl Reash and Clyde Scott.

John H. King was reelected president of Forest County Extension Association; Hubert Saxton, vice president and Mrs. Virginia Culver, treasurer. Mrs. Merle Dashner was elected secretary.

Mrs. Otis Coeland had served three years as secretary. This is the longest term allowed by the Association Constitution.

Entertainment features on the program were a "Midget Sport Car Commercial" by Carl Wagner and a skit, "The Villain" by the Ag Rockets 4-H Club.

The two Forest County award winners in the State 4-H Public Speaking Contest gave their speeches. Sandra Mealy spoke 2-For-1 Split.
